6	CONNECTION FEES
7
8	Connection fees (also called "tap" fees) include fees that are paid to Metro Wastewater Reclamation District (MWRD) for wastewater treatment, as well as fees paid to Goldsmith Gulch Sanitation District (GGSD) for its collection system. MWRD connection fees are set by MWRD and are based on the size of the water tap that serves your property. These fees are referred to as a Single Family Residential Equivalent, and one single family home = one single family residential equivalent (SFRE). From this foundation, the SFREs are determined based on MWRD's adopted fee schedule. GGSD's connection fees include costs for the collection system and additional costs that may relate to your specific location and/or land use. This information will be collected on your Connection Application and Permit.
